

Eventry Privacy Policy

Last Updated: [08.04.2025]

1. Overview

1.1 This Privacy Policy explains how Eventry ("Eventry", "we", "us", or "our") gathers, handles, and protects your information when you use our platform and related services ("Services").

1.2 By using Eventry, you agree to the practices described in this policy. If you disagree, please do not use our services.

2. Data We Collect

2.1 Interaction Data: We automatically collect general data such as pages visited, features used, and time spent using our services. This information does not personally identify you.

3. How Your Data Is Used

3.1 We use your personal data to deliver our services, process your transactions, provide customer support, and keep you updated with relevant info.

3.2 Interaction data helps us understand how people use Eventry, allowing us to improve performance, usability, and overall experience.

4. Sharing of Information

4.1 Your personal data is never sold or traded.

4.2 We may share certain data with third-party providers who support our operations (e.g., payment gateways), but only to the extent necessary to provide our services.

5. Data Security

5.1 We apply reasonable security practices to keep your data safe. Please note that no digital system is entirely immune to threats.

6. Cookies & Tracking

6.1 Eventry may use cookies to save user settings, manage sessions, and enhance functionality. You can adjust cookie settings in your browser at any time.

7. Your Data Rights

7.1 You may request access to, correction of, or removal of your personal information by reaching out to us directly.

8. Policy Updates

8.1 We may revise this Privacy Policy occasionally. If significant changes are made, we will update this page. Continued use of Eventry means you accept the latest version.
