1. Information We May Receive

Depending on your interaction with CloudForge Kits and its service providers, information may include name, email, billing information, purchase and transaction information, account information, support communications, and information you voluntarily provide.

2. How We Use Information

We may use information to process purchases, provide product access and support, communicate about transactions, prevent fraud and abuse, improve services, and comply with legal obligations.

3. Payment Processing

Payments may be processed through Whop and/or payment partners. CloudForge Kits does not intentionally collect or store complete payment-card numbers or card security codes.

4. Information Sharing

Information may be shared with service providers needed for payment processing, delivery, hosting, support, security, analytics, or legal compliance. We do not sell customer personal information as a standalone product.

5. Data Retention

Information is retained as reasonably necessary for transactions, support, business records, fraud prevention, and legal obligations.

6. Security

We use reasonable measures to protect information, but no internet-based system can be guaranteed completely secure.

7. Third-Party Services

Our sales and products may involve Whop, AWS, GitHub, payment processors, hosting providers, and other third parties, each of which may have its own privacy policies.

8. Your Rights

Depending on applicable law, you may have rights to access, correct, delete, restrict, or object to processing of personal information. Contact us for privacy requests.

9. Children's Privacy

Our products are not intentionally directed toward children, and we do not knowingly collect children's personal information in violation of applicable law.

10. Changes

We may update this Privacy Policy periodically. The latest version will be made available through our service or sales platform.
