

TC888 Terms and Conditions

Version 17 October 2026

1 Contracting business and scope

TC888 GmbH, Reitmorstr. 2, 80538 München, Germany, represented by Managing Director Matthias Bentenrieder. Register court: Amtsgericht München; commercial register HRB 298586; VAT ID DE452024184. Email: tc@tc888.de. Telephone: +49 179 6961190.

These Terms govern the TC888 services identified in your purchased offer when validly incorporated into your contract. The service description, price, billing interval, term, trial conditions and included access agreed at purchase determine what you receive. Individual agreements and mandatory statutory rights take priority. Publishing a new version does not by itself amend an existing contract or remove purchased benefits.

The Withdrawal and Refund Policy explains statutory withdrawal and additional commercial promises. The End User Licence Agreement governs use of materials and tools. The Service Privacy Notice explains personal data processing; accepting these Terms is not blanket consent to optional recording, publicity or unrelated AI processing. The applicable Whop platform terms govern your separate relationship with Whop.

2 Services and access

TC888 provides free orientation and community resources, recorded educational materials, group market preparation, personal mentoring and analysis tools. Only services expressly included in your purchased offer form part of your contract. Access is provided for the agreed period through the platforms specified for that service. A separate activation or booking step may be needed for an included benefit; this does not remove the entitlement. Contact tc@tc888.de if access is missing.

Protect your account credentials, provide accurate information needed to administer access, and report suspected unauthorised use promptly. Responsibility for unauthorised activity follows applicable law. Security measures or suspension must be objectively justified and proportionate; notice and an opportunity to remedy a breach will be provided where required. Statutory remedies remain available.

3 Premium

Premium provides the recorded MTF course and downloadable personal Playbook templates through Whop while subscribed. All recorded lessons are available from the start of access, and you choose your own study pace. You complete and adapt the templates yourself; an individually prepared Playbook is not included.

Premium includes optional homework feedback from TC and priority Q&A through the dedicated Discord channels. Feedback and Q&A are written and asynchronous. TC responds as time allows; no fixed response time or unlimited review is promised. Discord is not required to access the course through Whop.

You may follow the course with your preferred charting platform. TradingView and TrendPredator PRO are not required. Optional linked TrendPredator templates on TradingView require PRO; free alternatives are sufficient to follow the course.

Where your purchased Premium plan includes two months of TrendPredator PRO, use the exclusive activation route to activate that benefit. The full included period runs from activation. Existing unused entitlements remain protected without a newly imposed calendar deadline. Any expiry or subsequent renewal follows the terms disclosed for the activation plan. A refund of the qualifying Premium purchase ends its linked PRO benefit as explained in the Withdrawal and Refund Policy; separately purchased PRO is unaffected.

An optional starting-point diagnosis is available through the free Whop Starter Kit and to Premium members. It assesses your existing trading method and gaps from questionnaire answers rather than testing course knowledge. Google services and ChatGPT Business assist in preparing the diagnosis email; TC checks it for plausibility before sending. Participation is not required for Starter Kit or course access. The Service Privacy Notice explains processing and any later use in mentoring.

4 Platinum

Platinum provides live group market preparation and discussion of trade examples through Google Meet, together with recordings and the resources identified in the purchased offer. Current Platinum offers include Premium and TrendPredator PRO for the relevant membership period.

Sessions discuss futures charts, scenarios and levels, which may include potential entries, stops and targets for the group. TC does not place or manage trades live in these sessions. Discussion is not tailored to an individual member's holdings, account, risk tolerance or financial goals. Members decide whether and how to apply the concepts; applicability to every instrument is not guaranteed.

The published calendar sets session dates and times within the typical weekly schedule. Public-holiday sessions may move within the same week. If TC cannot hold a session, it may be cancelled. Calendar updates around four weeks ahead and notice around two weeks ahead are usual planning aims, not guaranteed minimum notice. These arrangements do not exclude statutory remedies for missing or materially reduced agreed performance.

Sessions are recorded for replay by Platinum members, including later-joining members. Other attendees may see your name, camera and chat during the live session according to how you participate. Replays do not display members or chat but may contain an alias or comment read aloud by TC. You may keep camera and microphone off and ask TC not to read your contribution or alias into the recording. Advance recording information and the Service Privacy Notice explain the processing. Public or promotional reuse is separate.

Ordinary cancellation of renewal leaves Platinum and bundled access available through the paid period, including the replay archive. Separately purchased subscriptions retain their own terms.

5 Mentoring and appointments

Mentoring provides the personal sessions, allowances, duration and bundled services stated in the purchased offer. Current Ongoing and Intense offers retain their existing session allowances and agreed commercial arrangements. Any initial commitment or renewal applies only where validly agreed and permitted by law; this document does not impose a previously unagreed minimum term.

Mentoring focuses on trading methods, completed activity and Playbook development. It does not include recommendations of specific future transactions for the mentee.

Appointment rules:

- With at least twenty-four hours' notice, you may cancel or reschedule a session without penalty. Existing refund entitlements for eligible session cancellations remain protected.
- With less than twenty-four hours' notice given before the session starts, one courtesy reschedule is available per mentoring engagement. Further late cancellations normally count against the session allowance.
- A no-show without advance notice normally counts against the allowance without a replacement.

- If TC cancels, a replacement is provided without deducting another session.
- TC may make discretionary exceptions for genuine emergencies.

These rules are subject to mandatory law, including any required allowance for saved costs, replacement bookings and evidence of lower or absent loss. No additional cancellation fee is introduced.

One unused session from a billing period may be taken within seven days after that period ends, including the final paid period after cancellation. It uses the earlier period's allowance, cannot accumulate and cannot roll forward again. A delay caused by TC does not remove the replacement entitlement merely because the buffer expires.

Bundled Premium, Platinum and PRO access ends with the paid mentoring period unless separately subscribed. The seven-day buffer covers only the remaining personal session. Statutory earlier termination, withdrawal and other remedies remain unaffected.

6 Optional TraderOS and mentoring records

TraderOS is optional and available only with mentoring. Submit screenshots, journals, Playbooks, written questions and supporting material to traderos@trendpredator.com. It supports review of completed trading activity, methods and Playbook development; it does not review open trades. No fixed turnaround, instant response or unlimited feedback entitlement is promised.

ChatGPT Business processes submissions and prepares feedback and development-record updates. TC checks drafted feedback before sending; review depth and edits vary by case. AI-assisted content can contain errors. Ask for clarification or correction where needed.

TraderOS support ends with the paid mentoring period; the session buffer does not extend it. The Service Privacy Notice sets out the category-specific retention policy: necessary final mentoring and TraderOS records may be retained for up to twenty-four months after mentoring ends; private recordings follow the informed personal replay arrangement and applicable rights. Full transcripts and unnecessary working copies are normally deleted earlier. Existing promises of longer recording access remain protected pending individual reconciliation. Retention does not extend your support entitlement.

Private session recording, transcription/Gemini and integrated ChatGPT coaching are optional, independent choices explained in the Service Privacy Notice. The ChatGPT choice covers relevant onboarding and preparation information, session notes and transcripts, and your own TraderOS submissions and progress reviews. Declining or withdrawing it means no AI-assisted TraderOS or full manual TraderOS replacement; normal human mentoring and usual human feedback on individual requests remain within your existing offer. This privacy choice does not itself remove an agreed benefit, amend your contract or waive your rights. Any conflict with an already-agreed TraderOS benefit is addressed individually. Before optional processing, the processing, access and choices are explained.

If a prior starting-point diagnosis is to be used in mentoring, we will explain that use at enrolment and give you the opportunity to correct or update it. The record may no longer reflect your current approach. Required privacy information and a lawful basis must exist for that use.

7 TrendPredator PRO and free resources

TrendPredator PRO displays chart levels, patterns and analytical conditions for users to interpret. It does not itself provide suggested entries, stops or targets, execute trades or connect to a brokerage account. It requires suitable TradingView access and activation through the specified route. Whop's TradingView integration uses your TradingView username to administer access.

The trial length, paid price, renewal and cancellation conditions are those disclosed for the purchased or activated plan. A trial does not by itself extinguish statutory withdrawal rights. Cancellation during an agreed trial preserves access through that trial's end unless a refund, withdrawal or other valid termination requires different treatment.

Foundation and the Starter Kit provide free orientation. The open Execution Session reviews a recent trade, discusses the upcoming-session thesis and allows questions; it is not live trading and is separate from Platinum member sessions.

8 Prices renewals and cancellation

The applicable offer and checkout identify the total price including applicable taxes and unavoidable fees, currency, billing interval, initial term, any trial-to-paid conversion and renewal conditions before the binding order. Payment is collected through Whop using the methods available at checkout. TC888 supplies the purchased TC888 service; Whop provides its separate payment and platform services under its own applicable terms. Current plan-specific subscription and renewal arrangements continue, subject to mandatory law.

A changed public price does not automatically change an existing contract. Changes to existing prices or other obligations require a valid contractual and legal basis. Ordinary cancellation stops future renewal at the applicable termination date and does not automatically forfeit the remaining paid access.

You may contact tc@tc888.de to cancel. This email route is additional to the online cancellation and withdrawal functions required by applicable law. Deleting an account or ceasing to use a service is not itself a cancellation instruction.

9 Withdrawal and refunds

Statutory withdrawal, defect, termination and other mandatory rights remain unaffected. A valid statutory withdrawal does not depend on discretionary approval. The separate Withdrawal and Refund Policy contains the withdrawal information, model form and additional commercial refund promises.

Where incorporated into the relevant initial Premium or Platinum purchase, the fourteen-day full-refund promise applies even after use, without a reason. It does not cover renewal payments. Mentoring retains its applicable appointment-cancellation and refund promises; it does not receive an unconditional package-level refund promise merely because Premium or Platinum is bundled.

10 Materials conduct and updates

Use rights are set out in the EULA. You may use supplied resources for your own trading, including professional and prop-firm trading, and complete and adapt personal Playbook templates. Do not share paid accounts, redistribute or resell TC888 materials without permission, except where legally permitted. Your own independently developed notes, ideas and trading records remain yours.

Community participation must be respectful. Harassment, spam, unlawful content and interference with security are prohibited. Participation does not require following a trading recommendation or surrendering your own judgment.

TC888 may develop its course and resources as the approach evolves. Updates and other changes must preserve conformity with the contract and comply with applicable law. There is no fixed update schedule unless expressly agreed. This does not grant an unrestricted right to remove purchased services or reduce agreed performance; applicable information, termination and refund safeguards remain unaffected.

11 Education risk and liability

Educational resources and analysis tools support your own decisions. They do not guarantee profits, a particular trading result or avoidance of losses. Trading can result in loss of capital, and leverage can magnify losses. Historical trades, replays and backtests illustrate their stated context and do not promise future performance.

TC's market-preparation practice is to discuss markets without an open position in the market being discussed and to disclose his own trade examples after exit. Relevant conflicts must be disclosed. Descriptions of education or analysis do not exclude duties that apply to the actual service.

Liability and statutory rights concerning defects, conformity, updates and non-performance are governed by applicable law. Nothing in these Terms excludes liability or rights that cannot lawfully be excluded.

12 Customer material and public use

Your submissions remain yours. TC888 may use them to provide the agreed service within the disclosed privacy arrangements. Posting in a member community, agreeing to a session recording or removing a name does not by itself authorise promotional or public reuse.

Public use of identifiable participants, private feedback, screenshots or recordings requires the necessary separate rights and permissions. Genuinely confidential non-public information must be protected; publicly known methods and independently developed knowledge do not become trade secrets merely through these Terms.

13 Governing law and existing rights

German law applies subject to mandatory consumer protections that remain applicable, including protections of the consumer's habitual residence where the relevant conflict-of-laws rules provide for them. Statutory jurisdiction and access to courts remain unaffected. These Terms impose no mandatory pre-dispute consumer arbitration or mediation requirement.

TC888 does not voluntarily participate in dispute resolution proceedings before a consumer arbitration board (Verbraucherschlichtungsstelle). Any mandatory participation or information duties remain unaffected.

Individual agreements and mandatory law take priority. If a provision is invalid, applicable statutory rules determine the consequences. This edition applies to new purchases made from its actual release date, provided it is validly incorporated at purchase. Existing subscriptions, including their automatic renewals, retain their agreed terms unless a change is separately and validly agreed. Publication or continued use alone does not replace existing customer rights.
