Terms and Conditions

1. Owner, scope and acceptance

ARIA Flight is owned and operated by Matthew Shiflett, LLC, a Florida limited liability company (the "Company," "we," "us" or "our"). Contact us at ariaflightadmin@gmail.com for legal, support and privacy matters. These Terms govern the ARIA Flight website, membership, indicators, educational materials and Company-operated member experiences (collectively, the "Services"). Effective date: October 1, 2026.

When these Terms become effective, enrollment and access to restricted Services will require affirmative acceptance through the applicable enrollment or access process. If you do not agree, do not enroll or access restricted Services. These Terms contain confidentiality obligations, intellectual-property provisions, warranty disclaimers, liability limits and indemnification obligations. Retain a copy.

Business mailing address: 3100 SE Federal Highway, #1053, Stuart, Florida 34994, United States. Business phone: +1 772-293-2933. Email: ariaflightadmin@gmail.com.

2. Eligibility, accounts and authorized use

You must be at least 18 years old and have legal capacity to enter this agreement. If you act for an organization under a separately authorized organizational license, you represent that you may bind it. An ordinary individual membership does not authorize team or enterprise access.

Provide accurate account and TradingView information, keep access credentials secure, and notify us promptly of suspected misuse. You are responsible for activity you authorize and for unauthorized activity to the extent caused by your breach of these Terms or failure to take reasonable security precautions. Do not transfer accounts, share credentials or permit others to use your individual access.

3. International availability

Membership is offered internationally where lawful and where the required payment, TradingView and data services are available. Availability of checkout does not establish suitability for every instrument, jurisdiction or intended use. Mandatory consumer protections in your country remain applicable; the Florida choice-of-law and venue provisions do not remove rights or forums that you cannot lawfully waive.

4. Membership scope and platform dependencies

The launch membership includes ARIA Full Experience, ARIA Vector - Sync v1.1 (formerly ARIA Structure and Volume Zones), ARIA Five-Timeframe Radar, ARIA Developing One-Minute Radar, Flight School Flights 01-09, onboarding, continuing educational material and session reviews, member Q&A/community, and applicable indicator updates while subscribed. Desktop access is not part of the current Pine release; qualifying continuous founding members receive the future desktop benefit described below when released. The member setup guide identifies the validated configuration and separate TradingView requirements. Current Five-Timeframe Radar and Developing One-Minute Radar releases also support 30-second execution charts while preserving their intended source timeframes and closed-state or developing-state behavior. Earlier validation covers NQ1! standard candles with electronic sessions on 1m, 3m, 5m, 15m, 1h and 4h primary charts; it does not establish identical behavior across all instruments. TradingView subscriptions and exchange-data charges are separate.

TradingView, market-data providers, brokers, payment providers and other third parties control their own services and terms. Your access to those services may require separate accounts, subscriptions and permissions. We do not control their outages, data, execution, fees or changes. This allocation does not excuse our own obligations or any mandatory consumer remedies.

5. Educational purpose; securities and investment disclosure

The Services provide general market information, analytical tools and education. They are not designed to assess your financial circumstances, investment objectives, tax position or suitability for a particular transaction. Content and member discussions are not personalized investment, legal, tax or accounting advice. Do not ask instructors or community participants to manage your account or make individualized portfolio decisions for you.

The membership does not include brokerage services, custody of trading funds, discretionary account management, order execution or copy trading. A market-state label, example, analytical output or discussion is not an instruction to buy, sell or hold a security or other financial instrument, or an offer to transact in one. Consult appropriately qualified independent professionals when you require personalized advice. No language in these Terms disclaims duties that applicable law actually imposes on the Company.

Do not interpret the Company's name, its educational descriptions or a reference to the SEC, CFTC or NFA as regulatory approval, an endorsement, a finding of accuracy or an assurance of performance. Nothing in these Terms represents registration with, exemption from, or exclusion from regulation by an agency.

6. Market risk, futures and leverage

Securities and derivatives trading can result in substantial loss, including the entire amount invested. Futures and other leveraged positions can produce losses greater than the initial deposit and may require additional funds on short notice. Stop orders and other risk controls may not execute at the expected price or prevent loss, particularly during gaps, volatility, illiquidity or outages.

You independently select your broker, instruments, positions, risk controls and trades. ARIA does not guarantee profits, consistency, a win rate, a particular return or protection from loss. Historical patterns and model outputs can fail. Market data, assumptions, settings and interpretations can be delayed, inaccurate, incomplete or revised. Review the separate Risk Disclosure and your broker's product-specific disclosures before trading.

7. Performance, simulations, testimonials and conflicts

Past performance does not assure future results. Screenshots, replays and educational trade examples are not necessarily actual executed trades. Hypothetical results can benefit from hindsight and omit or misestimate commissions, financing, spread, liquidity, slippage and execution constraints. Trading real capital also introduces pressures that simulations cannot reproduce. An analytical score is not a demonstrated probability of profit unless its meaning, validation and limitations are expressly substantiated.

Testimonials describe individual experiences and do not promise typical or future results. Any material compensation, affiliation or other relevant conflict associated with a promoted testimonial or specific financial discussion must be disclosed where that content appears. Performance-specific and conflict disclosures must accompany the relevant material; these Terms are not a substitute for them.

8. Subscriptions, payment and founding membership

Standard membership is $89 USD per month with no founding enrollment fee. The Founding Member offer is limited to the first 100 founding memberships: a one-time $99 enrollment fee plus $69 for the first month, totaling $168 at signup before applicable taxes, followed by automatic renewals of $69 per month until canceled. Once the 100-membership offer limit is reached, the founding offer closes, unless otherwise determined by Matthew Shiflett, LLC in its sole discretion. Standard membership is available at $89 per month under its applicable terms. The enrollment fee is not charged again on ordinary renewals. Existing paid commitments are honored.

Founding Membership is a subscription classification only. Neither Founding Membership, the founding enrollment fee, nor use of the term "Founding Member" creates or conveys any ownership interest whatsoever in ARIA Flight, its products, software, intellectual property or other assets, or in Matthew Shiflett, LLC. It confers no equity, LLC membership interest, partnership interest, voting or management rights, or right to profits or distributions. Founding Members receive only the subscription benefits and limited license expressly described in these Terms.

Checkout must clearly disclose the amount due now, renewal amount and interval, applicable taxes, cancellation method and any offer conditions before payment authorization. You must be authorized to use the payment method. Changes to applicable pricing require at least 30 days' advance email notice under the changes provision below and any legally required consent. The protected $69/month founding base rate is exempt from price increases while the member retains qualifying continuous founding status.

Founding membership includes a $69/month base subscription rate lock, ARIA Flight software updates at no additional ARIA charge while membership remains continuously active, and access to the future ARIA desktop release and its updates at no additional ARIA charge when released, while that continuous membership remains active. The desktop is not currently released and no release date is promised. Separate TradingView, exchange-data, broker or other third-party charges are not included. These benefits attach to the founding membership and are nontransferable.

Any reference to "lifetime," "for life," or "free updates for life" means only for the duration of the member's continuously maintained founding membership and the applicable service's availability. It does not mean the member's natural lifetime, a perpetual software license, a fully paid lifetime subscription, or access or updates after membership ends. The $69 monthly subscription remains payable. Cancellation ends founding status, the rate lock, update eligibility and future desktop benefits when the current paid period expires; paid access continues until then. A scheduled cancellation reversed before that expiration preserves continuity. Once membership ends, reenrollment does not automatically restore founding status or prior benefits and is at the then-current standard terms unless a new founding offer is expressly accepted. This definition does not excuse failure to deliver an expressly promised benefit or remove mandatory remedies.

If a renewal payment fails, access is suspended immediately when the membership becomes past due. Founding status and the $69/month rate are preserved if the overdue renewal payment succeeds before automatic cancellation of that membership. Access may resume after successful payment is verified and script permissions are restored. If the membership is automatically canceled before payment recovery, founding status and its associated benefits end; later reenrollment does not automatically restore them and is subject to the then-current offer and terms. There is no guaranteed seven-day recovery window. Payment retries and automatic cancellation follow the payment provider's process; review payment-failure notices and resolve overdue payments promptly. Voluntary cancellation follows the separate cancellation rules.

9. Cancellation, refunds and access timing

The Cancellation and Refund Policy governs cancellation and refunds. Cancel before renewal to stop future recurring charges. Access continues through the current paid billing period after ordinary cancellation. Membership payments are non-refundable once that billing period begins, with no discretionary refunds or prorated credits for voluntary cancellation or unused time, except for an express offer-specific guarantee, billing corrections, non-delivery remedies or mandatory legal rights.

Nothing in these Terms restricts a legally protected payment dispute, statutory refund, withdrawal right or remedy for misrepresentation or non-delivery. Any special guarantee must be stated in the applicable offer. A warranty disclaimer or liability cap does not override an expressly promised refund.

10. Company ownership and reservation of rights

As between you and the Company, the Company and its licensors retain all rights in the Services and their proprietary components, including the ARIA brand, Market Cognition Engine, Market Language Model, software, scripts, source and object code, architecture, algorithms, proprietary taxonomies, documentation, lessons, recordings, interfaces, compilations and protectable analytical presentations, together with Company-created updates, modifications and improvements. Access is licensed, not sold. No ownership, source-code right or right to use our marks is transferred by subscribing, paying a fee, using an output or participating in a discussion.

Company-created product improvements and protectable service-generated analytical materials remain ours, including improvements informed by permitted usage analysis or assigned Feedback. This provision claims only rights that exist under applicable law: it does not confer ownership of public market facts, third-party exchange data, your independent trading decisions, your pre-existing materials or your personal information. Third-party rights remain with their owners. All rights not expressly granted are reserved.

11. Limited license and restrictions

While authorized access remains active and you comply with these Terms, we grant you a limited, personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable and non-sublicensable license to access the Services for your own learning and trading analysis on supported platforms. Personal analysis may inform trading in your own accounts; it does not authorize redistribution or provision of the Services to clients or other people. Downloading is permitted only where we provide a download function or written permission.

Except with our prior written permission or where an applicable law confers a right that cannot be restricted, you must not copy, republish, sell, sublicense, publicly display, broadcast, scrape or systematically extract restricted materials; share paid lessons or indicator access; record restricted sessions; remove ownership notices; bypass technical restrictions; reverse engineer or attempt to obtain proprietary code or nonpublic model logic; or use protected materials to develop a competing service or train, fine-tune, evaluate or supply an AI/model dataset. Do not upload confidential materials to an external AI tool or repository. These restrictions do not prohibit independent development without use of protected materials, lawful fair use, or the protected communications described below.

12. Confidential information and safeguarding duties

"Confidential Information" means nonpublic information disclosed through the Services or by the Company that is marked confidential or that a reasonable recipient would understand to be confidential from its nature and the circumstances. It includes nonpublic code, model specifications, internal logic, research, unreleased features, security and access information, business plans, and restricted instructional materials or demonstrations revealing proprietary know-how. Merely expressing a view about the product does not make that view confidential.

Use Confidential Information solely for your authorized use of the Services. Protect it with at least reasonable care and no less care than you use for your own comparable confidential information. Do not disclose, reproduce, transmit, record or make it available to others except as expressly authorized. Disclosure to a professional legal adviser is permitted where reasonably necessary and the adviser is bound by professional confidentiality. Promptly notify ariaflightadmin@gmail.com of unauthorized access or disclosure and reasonably cooperate to contain it, without destroying legally relevant evidence.

Confidential Information excludes information you can establish was lawfully known to you without restriction before disclosure, becomes public without your breach, is independently developed without use of the confidential material, or is lawfully received from someone entitled to disclose it. Publicly published Company material remains subject to applicable intellectual-property rights but is not confidential merely because we own it.

13. Confidentiality duration; protected disclosures and remedies

Confidentiality and restricted-use duties continue during access and for five years after termination; for information qualifying as a trade secret, they continue while that protection exists under applicable law. On termination or a reasonable written request, stop unauthorized use and return or securely delete Confidential Information within your control. You may retain records required by law and inaccessible routine backups until normal deletion, subject to continuing protection and no further use. We may request reasonable written confirmation of compliance.

Nothing prohibits honest consumer reviews or performance assessments, reporting suspected unlawful conduct to regulators or law enforcement, consulting counsel, participating in an investigation, protected whistleblowing, or exercising other non-waivable rights. No Company consent or advance notice is required for protected reporting. For other legally compelled disclosure, disclose only what is required and, if lawful and consistent with protected rights, give reasonable advance notice so we may seek protection. Confidentiality is not a restriction on criticism or disclosure of the existence or ordinary terms of your purchase.

Unauthorized disclosure or misuse may cause harm for which money alone is inadequate. The Company may seek injunctive or other equitable relief and available damages, subject to the court's standards and applicable law. This clause does not predetermine entitlement to an injunction, waive a required bond, impose an automatic penalty or restrict protected communications.

14. Feedback assignment and product improvements

"Feedback" means technical suggestions, proposed features, inventions, designs, fixes or other product-development contributions you voluntarily submit to the Company for possible incorporation into the Services. It excludes honest consumer reviews, performance assessments and similar protected analyses; personal information; your pre-existing work; third-party materials; and ordinary account, support or trading records. A submission does not lose those exclusions merely because it contains useful information.

To the extent you own transferable intellectual-property rights in Feedback, you hereby assign those rights to Matthew Shiflett, LLC, including rights to reproduce, modify, commercialize, license and incorporate it into products without payment, attribution or an obligation to use it. This is a present assignment of rights in Feedback as it is submitted, to the extent permitted by law. You agree to execute reasonable confirmatory documents at our expense. Where an assignment is unavailable or ineffective, you grant us a worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, non-exclusive, transferable, sublicensable, royalty-free license to exercise those rights for any lawful purpose, subject to non-waivable statutory rights. To the extent legally permitted, you waive, or agree not to assert, moral rights in that Feedback for those uses.

Submit only Feedback you are entitled to provide and do not include another person's confidential information. Feedback is submitted without an expectation that the Company will keep the technical suggestion confidential unless we separately agree in writing. That does not negate our privacy duties. Assignments requiring a signed instrument must be supported by an appropriate affirmative electronic signature or separate signed contribution agreement; mere website browsing is not treated as a signed assignment.

15. Member content, usage information and reviews

You retain rights in your pre-existing materials and in posts, charts, comments and other submissions outside the Feedback definition. You grant the Company a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to host, reproduce, technically adapt and display those submissions as reasonably needed to operate, secure, moderate and support the Services and make them available to the audience you select. This operational license ends when content is deleted from our active systems, apart from lawful retention, routine backups and copies already shared with others under the Services. You represent that you have the necessary rights for this use.

As between the parties, we retain rights, if any, in service telemetry, product statistics and aggregated or de-identified analytics we lawfully create from use of the Services, excluding your underlying content and third-party data. Collection, use and retention remain governed by the Privacy Policy and applicable law. This clause does not authorize new tracking, waive data-subject rights or transfer ownership of your personal data.

We do not claim ownership of protected consumer reviews or require removal of an honest negative review. Separate permission is required before using a member's identifiable content or likeness in promotional material beyond any distinct authorization actually given. Participation in a member community does not make it a confidential channel for your sensitive personal, financial or third-party information.

16. Acceptable conduct, suspension and termination

Do not use the Services unlawfully, infringe rights, harass others, impersonate another person, distribute malware, interfere with security or solicit unauthorized access. We may remove offending material and suspend or terminate access for a material breach, credible security threat or legally required restriction. Where reasonably practicable, we will give notice and an opportunity to address a remediable breach; urgent protective action may be immediate. Any resulting billing or refund treatment remains subject to applicable law and the approved cancellation policy.

At expiration or termination, the access license ends and you must stop using restricted Services and delete unauthorized copies, subject to lawful record retention. Ownership, valid Feedback assignments/licenses, confidentiality for its specified duration, accrued payment obligations, liability provisions and other provisions intended by their nature to survive remain effective to the extent permitted by law.

17. Limited warranties and disclaimer

TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, AND EXCEPT FOR AN EXPRESS WRITTEN COMMITMENT IN THE APPLICABLE OFFER, THE SERVICES AND ANALYTICAL MATERIALS ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND "AS AVAILABLE." THE COMPANY DISCLAIMS IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, TITLE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT, AND WARRANTIES ARISING FROM COURSE OF DEALING, PERFORMANCE OR TRADE USAGE, TO THE EXTENT THEY MAY LAWFULLY BE DISCLAIMED.

We do not warrant profitable results, error-free or uninterrupted operation, a fit for your strategy, complete or current data, universal compatibility, or that every defect will be corrected. Informal statements in community discussions do not create additional contractual warranties. These provisions do not override express product descriptions, express written guarantees, mandatory standards of care or non-excludable statutory warranties. If a warranty cannot lawfully be disclaimed, any limitation of its duration or remedy applies only to the extent specifically allowed by applicable law; no arbitrary shorter period is imposed here.

18. Exclusion of damages and aggregate liability cap

SUBJECT TO THE EXCEPTIONS BELOW, TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, MATTHEW SHIFLETT, LLC AND ITS OWNERS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, CONTRACTORS AND LICENSORS (THE "PROTECTED PARTIES") WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, OR FOR LOST PROFITS, LOST OPPORTUNITIES, LOST GOODWILL, LOSS OF DATA OR TRADING/INVESTMENT LOSSES ARISING FROM THE SERVICES, EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY. THE EXCLUSION OF TRADING/INVESTMENT LOSSES APPLIES WHETHER CLAIMED AS DIRECT OR INDIRECT LOSS, ONLY TO THE EXTENT LAWFULLY EXCLUDABLE.

THE PROTECTED PARTIES' COMBINED AGGREGATE LIABILITY FOR ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SERVICES OR THESE TERMS WILL NOT EXCEED THE GREATER OF US $100 OR THE FEES YOU ACTUALLY PAID THE COMPANY FOR THE SERVICES DURING THE TWELVE MONTHS BEFORE THE EVENT FIRST GIVING RISE TO THE CLAIM. RELATED CLAIMS ARE AGGREGATED; MULTIPLE CLAIMS DO NOT MULTIPLY THE CAP. These provisions apply across contract, tort (including ordinary negligence), warranty and other legal theories, to the extent permitted by law.

Nothing excludes or limits liability for fraud, fraudulent misrepresentation, willful misconduct, gross negligence, death or personal injury caused by negligence, or any other liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited. Mandatory consumer, securities and commodities-law rights and remedies remain intact. The cap does not reduce an expressly owed refund or non-waivable statutory payment. Where a particular exclusion is not permitted, it does not apply; the remaining lawful provisions continue. These allocations reflect the membership price and scope, not an assurance that a court will enforce every limitation.

19. Indemnification and defense of third-party claims

To the extent permitted by applicable law, you will indemnify, defend and hold the Protected Parties harmless from third-party claims, resulting judgments and approved settlements, and reasonable defense costs (including reasonable attorneys' fees), to the extent caused by your material breach of these Terms, your unlawful use of the Services, your infringement or misappropriation of another person's rights through materials you supply, or your unauthorized disclosure or redistribution of protected material.

This obligation does not cover losses caused by a Protected Party's own breach, negligence or misconduct, nor claims arising solely from your authorized use. It does not apply to your good-faith consumer claim, protected review, regulatory report or exercise of non-waivable rights. Direct claims between you and the Company remain subject to ordinary applicable remedies, rather than an automatic duty to fund our defense against your claim.

We must give prompt notice of a covered claim; a delay excuses your obligation only to the extent it materially prejudices the defense. You may control the defense using reasonably acceptable qualified counsel, with our reasonable cooperation at your expense. We may participate with separate counsel at our own expense, except where an actual conflict reasonably requires separate counsel whose covered costs are yours. No settlement may admit fault by, impose nonmonetary obligations on, or fail to fully release a Protected Party without its written consent, not unreasonably withheld. If you fail to provide a required defense after reasonable notice, we may defend and recover reasonable covered costs. Any mandatory consumer-law limits control.

20. Changes, notices and general provisions

Matthew Shiflett, LLC may amend these Terms and the Cancellation and Refund Policy and change applicable pricing by providing at least 30 days' advance notice to the email address associated with your membership. The notice will identify the changes and their effective date. Any longer notice period or affirmative consent required by applicable law will apply. Price changes apply only to renewals occurring on or after the stated effective date, after the notice period has elapsed; they do not change amounts already paid for a current billing period. You may cancel before the affected renewal to avoid the new charge, with access continuing through the paid period under the cancellation rules. The protected $69/month founding base rate is exempt from price increases while qualifying continuous founding status is maintained, including payment recovery before automatic cancellation as described in Section 8. This amendment provision does not override that rate protection or retroactively eliminate accrued rights, express guarantees or refund rights applicable to a purchase. We may maintain and update the Services, but changes to a paid offering remain subject to our express commitments and applicable remedies. Account and legal notices may be sent electronically to your supplied email, subject to applicable delivery and consent requirements. Acceptance of these Terms is not blanket consent to marketing or recording.

These Terms and the expressly identified offer and policies govern the Services. Specific checkout terms control the expressly disclosed price, renewal and access details; mandatory law always controls. A separate signed confidentiality or development agreement controls its subject matter where it expressly conflicts. No failure to enforce a provision is a continuing waiver. If a provision is unenforceable, the rest remains effective to the extent lawful, without rewriting the agreement to remove mandatory rights. You may not transfer access or this agreement without consent except where law permits. The Company may assign it in a merger or transfer of the relevant business, subject to required notice, privacy obligations and preservation of consumer rights.

These Terms and disputes arising from or relating to them or the Services are governed by the laws of the State of Florida, without regard to conflict-of-laws rules that would require another jurisdiction's laws, together with applicable federal law. Subject to any non-waivable rights, exclusive venue lies in the state courts located in Palm Beach County, Florida, or, where federal subject-matter jurisdiction exists, the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, West Palm Beach Division. You and the Company consent to personal jurisdiction in those courts and waive objections based on venue or inconvenient forum to the extent permitted by law. This provision does not deprive consumers of mandatory protections or a forum that applicable law does not permit them to waive, and does not restrict reports to or proceedings before regulators. No mandatory arbitration or class-action waiver is imposed. The Protected Parties are intended beneficiaries only of provisions expressly protecting them, subject to the same limitations. Risk Disclosure

1. Trading can result in substantial loss

Trading and investing involve risk. You can lose money, including your entire investment. Leveraged products, including futures, can generate losses greater than your initial deposit. Use only capital you can afford to lose, and understand the product, broker requirements and your potential obligations before trading.

Business mailing address: 3100 SE Federal Highway, #1053, Stuart, Florida 34994, United States. Business phone: +1 772-293-2933. Email: ariaflightadmin@gmail.com.

2. Context is not a prediction

ARIA organizes market information through its Market Cognition Engine and Market Language Model. Its interpretations, classifications and patterns can be incomplete, incorrect or no longer relevant as conditions change. A repeated pattern or displayed analytical measure does not establish a reliable probability of profit or guarantee the next market outcome.

3. You retain control

ARIA provides educational tools and market context. It does not place trades, manage accounts or provide individualized recommendations based on your finances or objectives. You decide whether, when and how to trade, including position size, risk limits and exits. Seek appropriately qualified advice when needed.

4. Data and technology have limits

Exchange feeds, chart settings, timeframes, session definitions, connectivity, platform behavior and indicator versions can affect what you see. Information may be delayed, revised, missing or inaccurate. Historical displays may differ from information available in real time. Validate the supported setup and understand the instruments before relying on them. Outages can occur during active markets.

5. Examples and simulated results

Educational examples, screenshots, replays and hypothetical or simulated results are not a record of your likely results. They may benefit from hindsight and may not account fully for liquidity, commissions, spreads, slippage, order execution, financing costs or the emotional effects of risking real money. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Any published performance presentation requires its own accurate methodology, limitations and applicable disclosures.

6. No promise of consistency or profit

Membership, education and instrumentation do not eliminate market risk, make a strategy profitable or ensure consistent execution. Testimonials and individual experiences are not guarantees and may not represent typical results. ARIA makes no promise of a particular income, win rate or return.

7. Read before enrolling

Review the membership description, platform requirements, Terms and Conditions, Privacy Policy, and Cancellation and Refund Policy before subscribing. This disclosure does not waive non-waivable legal rights or replace disclosures required for a particular regulated activity or financial product.

8. Regulatory references and scope

References to the SEC, CFTC or NFA do not signify approval, endorsement or verified performance. General disclosures do not establish regulatory status or replace disclosures required for particular performance presentations, testimonials or regulated activities.
