CHUF GANGER

Refund Policy

Last updated: November 2, 2026

No Refunds

All purchases of CHUF GANGER digital educational content are final. Because our courses are digital products that are available immediately after payment, we do not offer refunds, returns or exchanges once a purchase has been completed.

Before You Buy

Please read the product description carefully before purchasing. Each product page describes what is included, including the number of video episodes and their approximate length.

Billing Errors

If you were charged incorrectly, for example charged twice for the same product, please contact support through the CHUF GANGER support channel on Whop so the issue can be reviewed.

Payment Disputes

If you have a problem with a purchase, please contact us first so that we can try to resolve it. Payments are processed by Whop, and Whop's own buyer protection and dispute processes continue to apply.

Access

Each purchase gives access to the corresponding course only. Access to purchased content is provided through your Whop account.
