Bella-Crisp: Privacy policy

What we collect

When you order, the checkout collects your name, email address, shipping address and phone number, and what you ordered. Your payment details go to Whop, which processes the payment: this store never sees your full card number.

How we use it

To fill and deliver your order: your name, shipping address, phone number and the items you ordered go to our supplier, who packs and ships the order, and to the carrier that delivers it. Your email address and order number let you follow your order and let us answer your questions.

Bella-Crisp doesn't sell your personal information.

On this device

The store keeps your cart and checkout on your device, so they're still there when you come back.

Your choices

To ask what we hold about you, or to have it deleted, email jelee096@gmail.com. We keep what we must for orders, taxes and payment disputes.
