

Privacy Policy

Information Collection

We collect basic information such as name, email, and payment details during subscription. Data is only used to provide services.

Use of Information

Your data is used to manage your subscription, provide access to content, and improve the Community experience.

Data Sharing

We do not sell or share your personal information with third parties except as required by law or to process payments.

Data Security

Reasonable measures are taken to protect your information. However, no system is 100% secure.

Your Rights

You may request to access, update, or delete your personal data by contacting us.