

Return Policy

Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator

Last Updated: 28 July 2026

This Return Policy explains how cancellations, refunds, access-related issues, subscription renewals, and payment issues are handled for the Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator.

1. Digital Subscription Notice

The Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator is a digital TradingView indicator supplied through a monthly or yearly subscription. Once access has been granted, the product cannot be physically returned.

Because this is a digital subscription service with access delivered through TradingView, subscription charges are generally final unless this policy, our Whop page, applicable law, the payment platform, or our discretion states otherwise.

2. Monthly and Yearly Subscription Billing

The Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator is offered through monthly and yearly subscription plans, unless a different billing arrangement is clearly shown at checkout.

Monthly subscriptions are charged once per monthly billing period. Yearly subscriptions are charged for the full yearly period in advance. The price, billing period, trial details, taxes, and any applicable discount are shown at checkout.

Subscriptions automatically renew at the end of each billing period and the payment method on file will be charged unless you cancel before the renewal date. Purchasing a subscription gives you access to use the digital product only while the subscription remains active and subject to our Terms, access rules, TradingView requirements, and any restrictions stated by Bravo Concepts.

Purchasing a subscription does not give you ownership of the indicator, its code, its logic, or any related intellectual property.

3. Cancellation of a Subscription

You may cancel through your Whop account or another cancellation method made available by Bravo Concepts or the payment platform. Cancelling turns off future automatic renewal.

You must cancel before your renewal date to avoid the next monthly or yearly charge. Cancellation requests made after a renewal charge has already been processed do not automatically qualify for a refund.

After a valid cancellation, you will normally continue to have access until the end of the billing period you have already paid for. Your access may then be removed automatically or manually. Cancellation does not usually provide a prorated refund for unused time in the current billing period.

Not using the indicator, deleting an account, removing the indicator from a chart, or sending a general support message does not by itself cancel the subscription. You must complete the recognised cancellation process.

4. General Refund Position

Refunds are not automatically guaranteed after a subscription payment or renewal.

By subscribing to the Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator, you acknowledge that you are buying time-limited access to a digital indicator and that trading results are not guaranteed.

We do not provide refunds simply because a user changes their mind, does not use the indicator, experiences trading losses, expected guaranteed profits, forgot to cancel, or no longer wants access after a billing period has started.

Nothing in this policy limits any legal consumer rights that may apply in your country.

5. Situations Where a Refund May Be Considered

A refund may be considered at our discretion in situations such as:

- You were charged more than once for the same subscription billing period.
- You were charged incorrectly due to a confirmed technical or billing error.
- Access was not delivered due to an issue caused by Bravo Concepts.
- A refund is required by applicable law, Whop, a payment processor, or relevant platform rules.
- Another situation is approved by Bravo Concepts at our discretion.

Being eligible for review does not guarantee that a refund will be approved.

6. Situations Where Refunds Are Not Guaranteed

Refunds are not guaranteed for reasons including but not limited to:

- You changed your mind after subscribing.
- You did not use the indicator after receiving access.
- You forgot to cancel before a monthly or yearly renewal date.
- You cancelled after the renewal payment had already been processed.
- You only used part of the current monthly or yearly billing period.
- You did not understand how to use TradingView.
- You provided the wrong TradingView username.
- You experienced trading losses or failed a funded account challenge.
- You expected the indicator to guarantee profits, funded account passes, or trading success.

- You purchased using an affiliate or discount code and later decided you no longer wanted access.
- You assumed the subscription included personal coaching, trade signals, account management, or financial advice.
- The indicator was reasonably updated, edited, redesigned, improved, or had features added, removed, replaced, renamed, or reorganised in accordance with our Terms.

7. Indicator Updates and Future Changes

Bravo Concepts may update, improve, edit, redesign, modify, add, remove, replace, rename, limit, or change indicator features, settings, calculations, logic, visuals, labels, dashboards, compatibility, performance, or behaviour in the future.

We do not guarantee that every feature, setting, layout, visual, or behaviour will remain unchanged for the entire subscription period. Reasonable product updates or feature changes do not automatically qualify for a refund, subject to applicable law.

8. Free Trials and Promotional Offers

If a free trial is offered, the trial duration and the subscription price charged after the trial will be shown at checkout. Unless clearly stated otherwise, the trial automatically converts to the selected paid subscription when it ends.

You must cancel before the trial ends to avoid the first subscription charge. Failure to cancel a free trial before conversion does not automatically qualify for a refund. Free trials and promotional offers may be limited, changed, refused, or ended where abuse, duplicate use, or fraud is suspected.

Where a discount is shown as recurring, the same discount percentage will normally continue on renewals while the subscription remains continuously active, unless the offer terms state otherwise. A discounted purchase does not create additional refund rights.

9. TradingView Username Responsibility

Access to the Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator is provided through your TradingView username.

You are responsible for providing your TradingView username correctly and exactly as it appears on TradingView. If access is delayed because the wrong TradingView username was submitted, this does not automatically qualify for a refund. We will make reasonable efforts to correct the access once the correct username is provided.

10. How to Request a Refund Review

To request a refund review, contact us through one of the official channels below or use any refund or Resolution Centre process made available by Whop. Include enough information for us to locate your subscription and payment:

- Instagram: @bravo.concepts
- Whop: @bravoconcepts

Please include your full name, purchase email, Whop username if applicable, TradingView username, transaction or renewal date, subscription plan, and the reason for your request.

11. Processing Time

Refund review times may vary depending on the platform, payment provider, dispute process, and the information provided with the request.

If a refund is approved, the funds will usually be returned through the original payment method used at checkout. The exact timing may depend on Whop, your bank, card provider, or payment processor.

12. Chargebacks and Payment Disputes

If you open a chargeback, payment dispute, or fraudulent claim, your subscription and access to the Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator may be suspended or removed while the dispute is being reviewed.

Fraudulent chargebacks or abusive payment disputes may result in permanent removal of access and may prevent future purchases from Bravo Concepts.

13. Failed Payments

If a recurring payment fails, Whop or the payment processor may retry the payment. Access may be suspended or removed while payment remains outstanding. A failed payment does not cancel your subscription unless the platform or Bravo Concepts confirms that the subscription has been cancelled.

14. No Financial Advice or Trading Outcome Refunds

The Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator is provided for educational and informational purposes only and is not financial advice.

Trading involves risk. Refunds will not be issued because of trading losses, missed trades, failed funded account challenges, or because the indicator did not produce a specific trading outcome.

15. Policy Changes

Bravo Concepts may update this Return Policy at any time. The latest version will apply once posted on our website, Whop page, or another official Bravo Concepts platform. Where required by law, material changes will apply subject to any required notice or consumer rights.

Short Checkout Policy Text

The Bravo Concepts ICT Indicator is a digital TradingView indicator supplied through monthly and yearly subscriptions. Your selected subscription automatically renews and your payment method will be charged at the end of each billing period until you cancel. You must cancel before the renewal date to avoid the next charge. After cancellation, access normally continues until the end of the paid billing period, and unused time is not normally refunded. Due to the digital nature of the service, subscription and renewal charges are generally final unless required by law, required by the payment platform, or approved by Bravo Concepts at our discretion. Refunds are not guaranteed for trading losses, unused access, change of mind, forgotten cancellations, incorrect TradingView usernames, expectations of guaranteed profits, or reasonable future edits and changes to the indicator. For refund review requests, contact Instagram @bravo.concepts or Whop @bravoconcepts.
