Digital Product Notice

Axiro Bot is a digital software product delivered electronically.

Upon successful purchase, customers receive access to downloadable software and related digital content.

No Refunds

All sales are final.

Due to the digital nature of the product and the immediate delivery of software access, Axiro Bot does not offer refunds, returns, or exchanges.

By completing a purchase, you acknowledge and agree that:

- You understand the nature of the product.
- You have reviewed the product description before purchasing.
- You waive any right to return the product after access has been granted, where permitted by applicable law.

Exceptions

Refunds may only be issued where required by applicable consumer protection laws.
