Privacy Notice

Effective July 11, 2026

This notice covers TinyOps Studio LLC product purchases, workflow-audit requests, checkout questions, support messages, and service delivery.

Information collected

Depending on the order, TinyOps Studio and its service providers may process contact details, order and payment status, tax or VAT details, checkout answers, workflow descriptions, support messages, delivery files, and basic usage or fraud-prevention data. Payment card details are handled by the payment platform and are not stored by TinyOps Studio.

How information is used

Information is used to process orders, deliver products or services, communicate about intake and support, prevent fraud, maintain required transaction records, and improve service quality using aggregated or de-identified operational information.

Service providers and sharing

Information may be shared with checkout, payment, email, hosting, storage, analytics, and automation providers only as needed to operate the service. TinyOps Studio does not sell customer personal information or share it for unrelated advertising.

Retention and security

Information is retained only as long as reasonably needed for delivery, support, accounting, legal obligations, fraud prevention, and dispute handling. Reasonable technical and organizational safeguards are used, but no system can guarantee absolute security.

Customer choices

Do not submit passwords, secret keys, regulated data, or information you are not authorized to share. Contact TinyOps Studio to request access, correction, or deletion where applicable; some records may need to be retained for legal or accounting purposes.

Children and changes

Products and services are intended for business customers age 18 or older. This notice may be updated as services or legal requirements change; the effective date identifies the current version.
