

Carrier Launch Blueprint Refund Policy

Effective Date: July 19, 2026

Thank you for your interest in Carrier Launch Blueprint. Please read this Refund Policy carefully before making a purchase. By purchasing access to Carrier Launch Blueprint, you agree to the following terms:

1. All Sales Are Final

Carrier Launch Blueprint operates on a strict no-refund policy. Once a purchase is made and digital access is granted — including course materials, templates, checklists, worksheets, or any other downloadable content — no refunds will be issued, regardless of usage, engagement level, or perceived value.

2. Transparent Expectations

Before purchasing, all prospective buyers are provided with clear information regarding: the nature of Carrier Launch Blueprint as educational and template-based content; the fact that it is not a guarantee of contracts, income, or business results; and that content and access are provided immediately upon payment.

3. Voluntary Purchase & Usage

By completing your purchase, you acknowledge that: you are purchasing voluntarily; you have read and understood the offering details prior to purchase; and you assume full responsibility for how you apply the material to your own business.

4. Dispute Disclaimer

Filing a chargeback or dispute after gaining access to and/or downloading any portion of the material will be considered fraudulent behavior. Evidence of access and usage — including login records, download history, and timestamps — will be submitted to the payment processor and may result in permanent removal of access and reporting to collections.

5. No Guarantees or Promises

Carrier Launch Blueprint is designed for educational and informational purposes. No guarantees are made regarding contracts secured, income earned, or business outcomes. Starting and operating an independent carrier business involves inherent risk, and results depend entirely on the buyer's own effort, market conditions, and execution. Carrier Launch Blueprint and its creator are not liable for any losses incurred.

6. Support Issues

If you encounter a technical issue preventing access after payment, contact our support team within 48 hours at dispatch@logiclinkeexpress.com with proof of purchase. Our team will help resolve access-related concerns only — technical support requests do not constitute grounds for a refund.

If you do not agree with this policy, please do not complete your purchase.

Thank you for supporting Carrier Launch Blueprint.
