

Privacy Policy

Last updated: March 2026 · Your data never leaves your machine.

✓ PRIVACY FIRST: Local Trading Journal does not collect, transmit, or store any of your data on external servers. All information remains exclusively on your local device.

1. Data Collection

Local Trading Journal collects no personal data whatsoever. The Software does not transmit any information over the internet, does not include analytics or telemetry, and does not communicate with any external server operated by the Seller.

2. Local Data Storage

All trade data entered into the Software is stored locally in your Obsidian vault in a plain JSON file (ltj-trades.json). Screenshots are stored in your local vault folder. This data never leaves your device unless you choose to back it up or share it yourself.

✓ Data file: YourVault/ltj-trades.json ✓ Screenshots: YourVault/LTJ-Screenshots/ ✓ No cloud sync, no remote backup, no external database

3. License Validation

The Software performs a license key validation request to Whop's API on first activation and at most once every 24 hours thereafter. This request contains only your license key — no trade data, personal information, or vault contents are ever transmitted. If your device is offline, the Software operates fully without any validation request.

4. Third-Party Services

The Software may optionally fetch publicly available economic calendar data from ForexFactory to display news events. This request is made directly from your device and does not include any personal or trade data. You can disable this feature at any time.

5. Whop Platform

Your purchase is processed through Whop. The Whop platform collects payment and account information as required for the transaction. The Seller does not have access to your payment details. Please refer to Whop's own Privacy Policy for details.

6. No Analytics or Tracking

The Software contains no analytics code, no usage tracking, no crash reporting, and no telemetry of any kind. The Seller has zero visibility into how you use the Software.

7. Data Security

Since all data is stored locally, the security of your trade data is entirely your responsibility. The Seller recommends keeping regular backups of your vault folder. The Seller bears no responsibility for data loss due to device failure or accidental deletion.

8. Changes to This Policy

The Seller may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. As no personal data is collected, changes will be minimal and informational only.

---

Local Trading Journal · v3.0 · local-trading-journal.whop.com