

END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT (EULA) - LERSER Secure

Last Updated: April 14, 2026

This EULA is a legal agreement between you (the "User") and LERSER Secure. By downloading, accessing, or using the source code provided, you agree to the following terms:

1. Grant of License

We grant you a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to:

- Use the code to create unlimited personal or commercial applications.
- Modify the code for your own project requirements.

2. Restrictions (The "No-Resell" Clause)

You are strictly PROHIBITED from:

- Selling, sub-licensing, or distributing the Software as a standalone template, boilerplate, or starter kit.
- Creating a competing "boilerplate" product based on this source code.
- Making the source code available in public repositories (e.g., public GitHub repos).

3. Ownership

The intellectual property and original source code structure remain the exclusive property of LERSER Secure. You own the specific implementation and the final application you build, but not the underlying boilerplate architecture.

4. "As-Is" & No Warranty

The software is provided "as is." We do not guarantee that it will be error-free or meet every security standard of your specific jurisdiction. You use the code at your own risk.

5. Termination

This license is effective until terminated. Your rights under this EULA will terminate automatically if you fail to comply with any of its terms (e.g., unauthorized reselling).
