

This Return Policy applies to all purchases made from TTrades Indicator. By completing a purchase, the customer acknowledges and agrees to the terms outlined in this document. All purchases provide immediate digital access to the indicator. Because digital goods cannot be returned or reversed once delivered, all sales must be treated as final to maintain clarity, fairness, and consistency.

1. All Sales Are Final

All purchases of TTrades Indicator memberships, including monthly, quarterly, annual plans, are final and non refundable once access has been granted. Memberships provide immediate digital delivery of TradingView Indicator. Because digital products cannot be returned, unconsumed, or revoked in a way that restores them to their original state, the full value of the product is considered delivered at the moment access is activated.

Refunds are not provided under any circumstance after access is delivered. This applies regardless of:

- Whether the user logged in or used the content
- Changes in personal or financial circumstances
- Misunderstanding of the service before purchase
- Accidental purchases or buyer remorse
- Device or technical issues on the user side
- Perceived lack of results or performance
- Inactivity or lack of participation

This standard aligns with industry practices for digital educational products and subscription based digital services. By completing a purchase, the user affirms understanding that all sales are final due to the nature of immediate digital access.

2. User Responsibility for Subscription Management

Customers are solely responsible for managing their subscriptions. This includes:

- Cancelling before the renewal date
- Monitoring billing dates
- Updating payment information
- Understanding the billing frequency selected at checkout

Cancellations stop future billing but do not qualify the user for a refund of any previous charges. We do not issue refunds for late cancellations, forgotten cancellations, or periods of inactivity.

3. Chargebacks and Disputes

Initiating a chargeback for a valid and delivered purchase violates this policy. We provide timestamped access logs, delivery confirmations, and proof of purchase to payment processors in order to contest invalid disputes. Filing a chargeback may result in permanent removal from TTrades Indicator platform and restrictions on future access.

4. Exceptions

Refunds are issued only in the case of a verified duplicate charge for the same product purchased unintentionally within the same billing period. A duplicate charge means the customer was billed twice for the identical membership without placing a second order. Both transactions must be visible and verifiable in our billing system. If confirmed, the duplicate payment will be refunded and the original purchase will remain active.

No other exceptions are offered.

5. Agreement at Checkout

By completing a purchase, the user confirms the following:

- They have read and understand this Return and Refund Policy
- They acknowledge that digital access is delivered immediately
- They agree that all sales are final
- They accept responsibility for managing and cancelling their subscription
- They understand that refunds will not be issued after access is granted
